BUILDING WITH NATURE!

TRADITION OF INNOVATIVE DEVELOPMENT

Dear Sir or Madam,

From 25th to 28th March 2020, with the latest visions and technologies, the International Construction, Energetics, Municipal Services and Trade Fair MEGRA will upgrade the tradition of development in Slovenian construction, well-founded in Gornja Radgona in the year 1981.

At the crossroads of four countries, it will bring together a wide international circle of investors, experts, contractors and users. It will offer quality options for modern, sustainable construction, for restoration and energy renovation of buildings, for landscaping and for all types of installations. Together with key decision makers and contractors, it will build bridges, railway, road, telecommunication and municipal infrastructures.

The energy program will accelerate the introduction of renewable energy sources and energy savings. It will expand green infrastructure, protect and remediate the environment through developments in the field of municipal services, landscaping and ecology. Under its auspices, craftsmen will strengthen the importance of craftsmanship and draw attention to deficit occupations. In the segment of sustainable technologies and green lifestyle, it will present innovative designers, scientific institutions and providers to human, society and nature-friendly technologies, know-how, products and services.

The MEGRA trade fair will exchange goods, services and business at the exhibition venues. At professional and business meetings it will share knowledge and experience. It will educate the new generation of builders through expert workshops. It will equip contractors with superior machinery, tools and equipment. It will enable the final customers to live their residential dream of the future today.

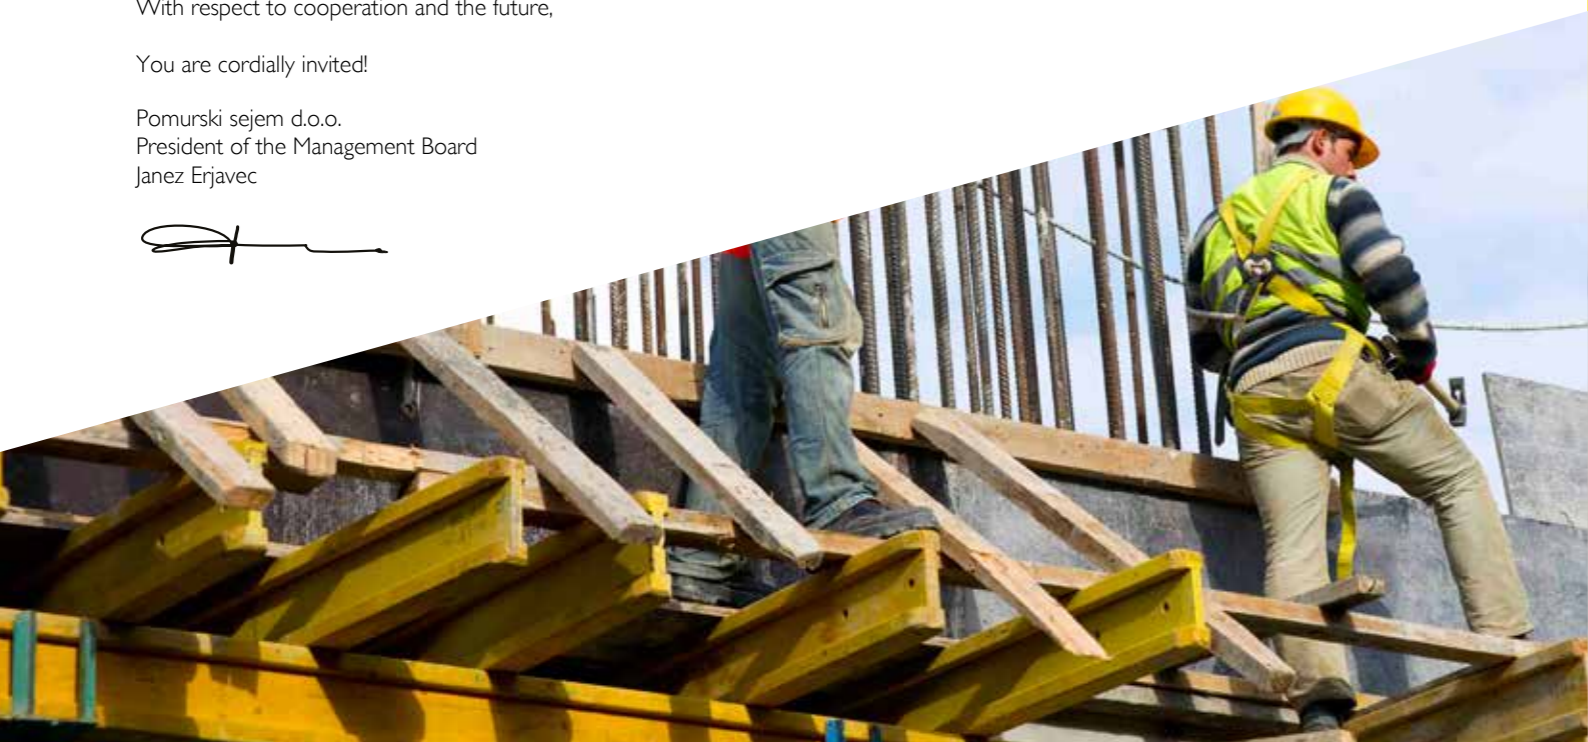

We invite you to present your offer in a business-efficient way and to consolidate your international reputation in construction, municipal services, energy and trade.

We look forward to the joint successes of sustainable development.

With respect to cooperation and the future,

You are cordially invited!

Pomurski sejem d.o.o.
